Du Pont Manual high school of Louisville, defending state scholastic track champions, lost its title to Louisville Male in the state meet Saturday held on Stoll field under the auspices of the department of the university extension and track coach Bernie A. Snively. Male piled up a total of 90 1/2 points by scoring in every event on the card.

Male's total was one of the highest ever made in a state event. Manual followed with 61 1/2 markers and Holmes high of Covington, was third with 55 points. Fourteen schools competed for the state crown. Other entrants and order of finish are: Middlesboro, 13; Berea Academy, 10 1/2; Dayton, 9; St. Xavier, 8 1/2; Henry Clay, Lexington, 7 1/2; Shelbyville, 6; University High, 4; Fulton, 3 1/2; and Barbourville, 3.

Due to inclement weather of the past three days the boat was in a soggy condition and no records were shattered. Capt. Young of Male was high point man for the occasion with 14 points. The team coached by Coach Bob Chambers took nine first places and tied for another. Manual won three first places, Covington, the third place winner, was unable to take a first in any event, but scored several seconds and thirds.

Young, of Male, as last year, won the high jump with a jump of five feet, nine inches. McMakin of Shelbyville repeated his triumph of last year, by winning the 40 yard dash in the good time of .54.9. The pole vault was again a tie, just as this event was a four-way tie last year.

Trophies were again donated by Joseph and Edward Madden in honor of their father the late John E. Madden, nationally known sportsman. A gold emblem, mounted on a mahogany base was presented to Male as emblematic of the championship and was accepted by Captain S. Young. This Male star was also presented with a gold cup for taking high scoring honors in the classic. Each winner of a relay race also was given a gold cup, while the winners in the various events got medals. The awards resembled awards given to Olympic winners.

Cecil Hillard, University high flash, scored fourth place in both the 440 and 880 yard runs; while Lexington high school, the other

STUDENT GROUP
ELECTS OFFICERSSouthern Federation of Colleges Elects William Luther Secretary-Treasurer of Organization

1933 MEET IN FLORIDA

For the second consecutive year a university student was elected to a major office in the Southern Federation of Colleges and Universities. At the closing session of the three-day convention held at the university by the student group, William Luther was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization. Other officers selected were William Herin, University of Florida, succeeding Ben LeRoy of the university as president, and Ivan Allen, Jr., Georgia Tech, vice-president. The University of Florida was chosen as the place of the 1933 convention.

Members of the executive committee for the next year will be Mark Wilson, North Carolina State, chairman, Kenneth Goare, Birmingham-Southern, and Ralph Williams, University of Maryland. After the selection of these men the meeting adjourned and the delegates were taken on a tour of the Blue Grass. Most of the delegates left the city Saturday night.

A general discussion of student problems featured the Saturday business session. Southern Conference problems were outlined by W. D. Funkhouser, and the problem of the R. O. T. C. groups in the universities and colleges was discussed by Major Meredith.

Twelve colleges were represented at the convocation by student delegates—Alabama, Florida, Maryland, Washington and Lee, Centre, Louisville, Birmingham-Southern, North Carolina State, Tulane, Mississippi State, Georgia Tech, and Kentucky.

This meeting was the 11th annual convention held by the student group, which was first organized at Tech in 1921. Men's student councils from the leading universities in the South send delegates to the convention. The university student council and the local chapter of O. D. K. cooperated in conducting the local meeting.

In addition to Doctor Funkhouser and Major Meredith, other speakers from the university included Pres. Frank L. McVey, Dean C. R. Melcher, Prof. M. E. Potter, and Gordon Finley, president of the student council. The meeting was presided over by Ben Leroy.

Bob Hickey Wins
Only Point as Golf
Team Loses to Ohio

Bob Hickey won the only point in the golf match Saturday, April 30, in which Kentucky was defeated by Ohio State University, 17 to 1, at the Lexington Country club.

In the twosomes Saturday morning Robert Kepler, runner-up in the National Intercollegiate golf match last year, defeated Willard Meredith 73 to 82; J. Florio, twice F. Hardwick 73 to 82; G. Berry, Ohio amateur champion, defeated E. Settle, 82; and Hickey took the first nine holes from Garver for the only point, but lost the match, 77 to 82.

In the foursomes Saturday afternoon Kepler and Florio shot 77-69 to win from Meredith and Settle who shot 82-82; and Berry and Garver shot 73-73 to Beat Hickey and Hardwick 78-80.

Robert Kepler shot 141 on the 36 holes and par is 142. This is exceptionally good when it is considered that it was the first time he had played the course.

Physics Department
Makes Instruments

Six new Michelson interferometers, instruments used in the optics laboratory of the Physics department, and valued at $18,000, were recently constructed by Carl Schneider, instrument maker for the Physics department.

The instruments, which measure optical wave lengths accurately to a small fraction of a centimeter and require careful workmanship in construction, were assembled for only a fraction of their retail value. The completion of these instruments makes possible advanced courses at the university in optics.

Carl Schneider, who is at present constructing two Fabry-Perot type interferometers, has been at the university since 1926. He received his training at the Jena glass manufacturing plant at Jena, Germany. Before coming to the university he was connected with the Kueffel-Esser company, manufacturers of engineering instruments.

Beef cattle, Malcolm Lyons, 144, first; John H. Clark, 140, second; Leonard Wood and Fred Hafer, 136 (tied), third.

Hogs, Samuel Tuttle, 144, first; French Smoot and William Kinney, 142 (tied), second.

Sheep, Thomas Quisenberry, 134, first; John W. Clark, 132, second; and Samuel Tuttle, 131, third.

Committee Releases
May Day Schedule

Events of May Day, Friday 6, will begin with convocation at 10 o'clock in Memorial hall. The annual parade, with its original and picturesque floats, will form at 1:30 o'clock at the Administration building, and will proceed through the downtown section of the city. After the parade, the crowning of the May queen, Miss Ruth Wehle, and festivities of the court will take place on Stoll field.

A feature of the morning convocation will be the parade of seniors, appearing for the first time in their caps and gowns. The program, arranged by SuKy will open with organ selections by Dr. Abner Kelley. The speaker will be William Gess, former university star trackman. Special music will be presented by the Men's Glee club. At that time there will be a presentation of awards by President McVey, followed by the pledging of Mortar Board, honorary senior women's organization.

The parade will be the opening event of the afternoon program, and it is expected that many beautiful floats will be prepared. SuKy is continuing its custom of offering cups for the most original fraternity float and for the most beautiful sorority float. The crowning of the queen will be followed by folk dances and stunts.

An annual gingham dance, sponsored by SuKy, will be held at the Alumni gymnasium Friday night, and at that time pledging to SuKy will be announced and awarding of prizes for floats in the parade will be made.

O. D. K. PLEDGES
Pledges of Omicron Delta Kappa will meet at 5 p. m. today at White hall.

SuKy's May Day Souvenir Program Completed;
Will Be Replete with Beauty as well as Beauties

By JOAN CARIGAN

For the first time in the history of the May day custom at the university a souvenir program will be published. SuKy circle, student pep organization under whose guidance the May day preparations are made, is publishing the book which will be issued sometime Thursday. The book will be sold by members of the circle and members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity.

The cover, blue as the May Day sky that smiles at the answering blue of Kentucky's colors, will be printed in aluminum ink, complementing the color-scheme. Emblazoned on the azure field will be the seal of Kentucky in shining silver.

Within the covers, the book will be replete with photographs and histories of the university, organizations, outstanding personalities, and features of life on the campus.

On opening the book the reader will find first an outline of the entire program for the May Day celebrations. On the opposite page will be a picture of May Queen Ruth Wehle. On other pages will be found pictures of her attendants, other nominees for the honor, and co-eds outstanding in beauty and campus activities.

One of the outstanding features of the book will be a history of the university from its humble beginning up to now, written by Mary Carolyn Terrell. Elsewhere will be some of the traditions of the university. A calendar for the university for 1932-33 will be included in the book.

There will be histories of twenty-three social organizations on the campus, with lists of the members and the honorary organizations to which they belong.

The editor of the publication is Gilbert Kingsbury, news editor of the Kernel. Others on the staff are Nell Dishman, assistant editor; Martha Lowry, business manager; Floy Bowling, advertising manager; and Niel Plummer, faculty advisor.

RIFLEMEN TAKE
SECOND IN MATCH
FOR ARMY PRIZETeam Makes High Score of 947 Points Out of
Possible 1000CAPTAIN CUNNINGHAM
COACHES RIFLE TEAMIndividual Gold Medals Will Be Given Team
Members

The university rifle team won second place in the annual Chicago American R. O. T. C. competition for the William Randolph Hearst Trophy, according to an announcement received by the university military department. Due to the fact that every university or college R. O. T. C. unit in the United States was represented at the match, winning second place is considered a remarkable achievement.

Each year a rifle match is sponsored by William Randolph Hearst for the college and universities of the country which have compulsory military training. Winning the Hearst Trophy is generally regarded as the highest honor which a college rifle team can win.

By virtue of winning second place the team will receive a handsome trophy. In addition, individual members will be presented gold medals at the first weekly parade following their receipt. Lieutenant-Colonel Owen R. Meredith indicated yesterday that he probably would present the trophy and medals at the regimental parade scheduled for Monday, May 16.

It is thought that but for an error in the procedure of shooting, the university marksmanship team might have won first place. Through a mistake S. C. Perry fired on the second team instead of on the first team were S. C. Perry, S. O. Walther and that of any member of the first team, the possibility presents itself that had he fired on the first squad the university score might have been sufficient to win first place.

Scores of the match show that the first university team amassed a total of 947 points out of a possible 1000. The second team scored 943 points out of the same number of shots fired thus giving the team an average of 189.

Members of the first team were William Eades, O. W. Chinn, W. E. Florence, Marvin Wachs, and W. B. Parrish. Members of the second team were S. C. Perry, S. O. Wallace, J. B. Rogers, I. C. Evans, and H. W. Chapman.

U. K. Chess Players
Receive Challenge

A challenger from the chess team of the University of Cincinnati has been received by Bart Peak, and a team to oppose the challengers is being organized. The match will take place here on some Saturday in the near future.

Those students wishing to try out for the team may see Leslie Gross at the men's dormitory or sign the notice posted in the journalism department in the basement of McVey hall.

Geology Students
Take Annual TripMore than 100 of the Department Visit Natural Bridge
Saturday

More than 100 students of the geology department made the annual trip Saturday to Natural Bridge. Through the courtesy of the L. & N. railroad an excursion is run each year, thereby enabling the students to travel at reduced rates. Leaving Lexington at 9 o'clock Saturday morning the party traveled by way of Winchester, arriving at Natural Bridge at 12:30 o'clock. Each student was given a chart prepared by the department in order to aid in the observation and study of rock strata found en route and at Natural Bridge.

After eating lunch immediately upon arriving at the resort, the party climbed to the bridge carved by Nature and there heard lectures by the instructors concerning the probable other forms of rock strata found at the resort, the party returned to Lexington at 8 o'clock that evening.

The instructors making the trip were Dave Young, R. L. Meacham, Louis Barton, and Richard Hicklin.

Public Health School
Will Be Conducted

A school for public health officers will be conducted during the first term of the Summer Session at the university, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. Jesse Adams, director of the summer school. The school, the only one of its kind in Kentucky, will be under the supervision of Dr. J. S. Chambers, head of the department of health at the university, whose staff will be composed of men and women who are experts in that field.

On the staff will be Dr. A. W. Freeman, professor of Health Administration at Johns Hopkins University, and Dr. E. J. Murray, of Julius Harkins Sanatorium. Dr. Freeman was formerly connected with the Virginia State Department of Health, and was Commissioner of Health in Ohio. Others on the staff will be from the state board of health, and the university. Courses will be offered especially for public health officers, for public health nurses, and for teachers of public health. 300 new summer school bulletins have just come off the press announcing the Public Health School.

Credits will be given which will be accepted toward degrees in Public Health Schools. As there is no school in the state, and public health is becoming yearly more important, this school is expected to draw many people interested in public health.

Y. W. CONDUCTS VESTERS

The Y. W. C. A. of the university will inaugurate a series of open-air vester services at 6:30 tonight in the formal garden behind the Art Center. The Freshman cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. will take charge of the program, under the direction of Mary Louise Durham and Katherine Cooke. The half-hour program will consist of the singing of vester, camp, and popular songs. In case of rain, the services will be held in the recreation room of Patterson hall.

R.O.T.C. Instructor
Accidentally InjuredMajor Brewer, Recently
Transferred to U. K., suffers Gun Wound

Major Boltes E. Brewer, infantry, who was recently notified of his transfer from the organized Reserves of the Eighth Corps area, Tulsa, Oklahoma, to the university, is confined to a hospital at Fort Sill suffering from an accident in which he shot himself through the knee with a .45 automatic pistol. Major Brewer was expected to arrive at the university about July 10.

The accident occurred on the morning of April 13 when Major Brewer was attempting to lower the hammer on the gun. Although the bullet went under the patella, causing a slight crack in the top part, it missed all other bones and ligaments.

The injury is not considered serious. However, it will be necessary for him to wear a cast for three or four weeks until the crack in the patella heals.

Agriculture Society
Gives Annual Social

Annual election of officers was held at a social sponsored by the Agriculture society Friday night in the judging pavilion. The newly elected officers who were introduced at that time are Ollie Price, president; Ralph Broadbent, vice-president; and Louise Ewing, secretary-treasurer.

Approximately 60 were present for the social, and music was furnished by Gibson's ten-piece orchestra. It was decided that the Agriculture college would plan a picnic within the next two weeks, the exact date to be announced later.

NOTICE SENIORS

All seniors are required to wear caps and gowns and assemble at 10 a. m. Friday, May 6, in front of the Civil Engineering and Physics building. They will march in a body to attend their last convocation exercises at Memorial hall.

Caps and gowns may be procured at the campus book store, McVey hall.

STUDENT KILLED
IN AUTO CRASHJerome B. Respass, Student in College of Agriculture
Overtakes Auto on Bardstown Road

ON WAY TO SEE FATHER

Jerome B. Respass, sophomore in the College of Agriculture, was killed at 6 o'clock Saturday morning when his automobile crashed into a telephone pole on the Bardstown road. He was returning from a dance at Bardstown to meet his father, J. B. Respass, at Churchills Downs at the time of the accident.

The convertible coupe, which Respass was driving, left the road at a sharp curve, crashed into a low culvert abutment about fifty feet from the point where it left the pavement, and was thrown against a telephone pole and turned half over.

The crash attracted W. G. Bohannon and F. S. Hays, Jr., who lived near the scene, and who attempted to rescue the boy, but were unable to cope with the flames which resulted from an explosion of the vacuum tank following the crash.

Respass and Frank Phipps, university football star, left Lexington at 6 o'clock Friday to attend the dance at Bardstown. Phipps returned to Lexington, and Respass started to Louisville to meet his father. It is presumed that he fell asleep as he drove along and was unable to recover sufficiently to negotiate the sharp curve.

The body was returned to Erlanger at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. Respass, for funeral services and burial. The youth, an only child, is survived also by his mother.

Respass was a star football player at the Holmes High school, Covington. He was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, and of Block and Bridle, honorary agricultural fraternity.

4-H Club Members
Will Meet Friday
For Annual Picnic

Having their annual picnic Friday night, May 6, members of the 4-H club will meet at the Agriculture building at 7 p. m. All former members of the Junior Agricultural 4-H clubs are invited to meet with them. The group will go from the Agriculture building to the regular picnic ground on the experiment station farm.

There will be food for all and a speaker will complete the program. There also will be election of officers for the coming year.

The Junior 4-H club was established on the University of Kentucky campus seven years ago. At present 36 per cent of the agricultural college and 10 per cent of the student body are former 4-H club members. The agricultural college of the University of Kentucky has a larger percentage of former 4-H club members than any other college in the central states.

The present officers are Fred Hafer, president; Ollie Price, vice-president, and Louise Ewing, secretary and treasurer. The committee in charge are Beach Craigie, Kathryn Smoot, and Martha Carlton.

Medical Technology
Course Is Offered

A full course in medical technology will be offered by the university department of bacteriology for the 1932 summer school, according to an announcement issued Monday. The summer sessions which will open June 14.

This course in medical technology, which was first offered at the university at the beginning of the 1931-32 school year, prepares men and women for positions in hospitals, laboratories, physicians' and surgeons' clinics, and federal, state, and municipal laboratories. In addition, it prepares the especially adapted student for either commercial or research laboratory work, requiring technical knowledge of medical bacteriology in its broadest sense.

The summer school schedule has been so arranged that students who desire to begin work in the course in medical technology as well as students with advanced standing will find courses to suit their needs. The course gives full credit leading to a college degree. Information concerning this course and a pamphlet describing the four-year requirements leading to a degree may be secured by addressing Dr. M. Scheraga, head of the department of bacteriology.

The University of Minnesota has opened another course. It is a school of aviation for the use of would-be flyers.

DRAMATIC GROUP
ELECTS OFFICERS
FOR COMING YEARStrollers Elect Winston Ardery President of Group for Ensuing YearSTROLLER MEMBERS
ALSO ARE SELECTEDDenton, Crutcher, Mills, Mc-Gee and Evans also Elected to Hold Office

Members of Strollers, student dramatic organization, met at 8:30 p. m. last night in the attic theater room of White hall, and new members were taken into the organization for the work that they had contributed during the performance of "Good News." The members also selected the officers for next year, and these officers will take office next year.

Winston Ardery was selected president of the organization. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and his work with Strollers has been outstanding during his membership with the dramatic club. He is a junior in the College of Commerce, and he is a native of Paris, Ky.

Manning Hollingsworth, Middlesboro, was selected business manager. He is a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, is one of the two sophomore members of the Men's Student Council and is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Other officers elected were Ann Thomas Denton, Kappa Delta, secretary; G. L. Crutcher, Phi Sigma Kappa, vice-president; Joseph Mills, Delta Tau Delta, and Phil Magee, Alpha Tau Omega, publicity manager; and Edmon I. Evans, stage manager.

The points of the participants of the production were considered and voted on. It was agreed, because of the failure of the point system to function, to draw up a new list of those who have points. President Jack Robey appointed Clarence Yeager, business manager of the organization, Hugh Adcock, director, and himself as a committee to revise the old system.

Ann Thomas Denton was appointed secretary for the remainder of the year because Dorothy Jones, the present secretary, does not find time to fulfill her duties. Other officers elected will assume office next fall.

The following were made members of Strollers:

Ralph Kercheval, Thomas Phipps, Paul Williams, William Luther, John Epps, Mary Stewart Blackwell, Elizabeth Jones, William Hubble, Homer Brandenburg, Don McGurk, Phil Ardery, James Lyne, William Conley, Hugh McGuire, Mary Louise Bradley, Louise Johnson, Elizabeth Ann Weathers, Lawrence J. M'VEY TO SPEAK
AT CONVOCATION"Between Us" Address Set
For Third Hour, May 18;
Will Be Last Assembly of School Year

The May convocation, the last of the present school year will be held at 10 o'clock, Wednesday, May 18, in Memorial hall according to an announcement issued yesterday by Dean C. R. Melcher, who is in charge of the convocations. This will be the second address delivered by President McVey this year and is the last of the series of "Between Us" talks given by the university head.

The last address delivered by the president was made at the beginning of the school year when the convocation is held especially for the freshmen. During the first address the president advises the student just what is expected of him as a college student. The last address of the year which is delivered by the president is in the nature of a resume of the year's work and a revelation of some of next year's plans.

The "Between Us" talks are more or less informal and are well attended by members of the student body. All types of subjects of interest to the members of the university are touched upon by the speaker.

DEAN FREEMAN ATTENDS

Dean Edwin Freeman of the College of Engineering attended a Rotary convention at Middlesboro Sunday and Monday. He went to the convention with 10 other members and is expected to return Tuesday.

Several years ago The Kernel carried this column as a regular feature. Its purpose then was to offer tidbits of humor. The column thus revived, has for its object service to the campus, plus humor and observations. For the editor, it is a time saver; for the contributor, it offers a convenient outlet for notices and announcements.

We would like to know just what is funny about the remark, "We were in the botanical garden yesterday."

Last Friday the Ohio State golf team visited Lexington to play the varsity. Delmare Adams was sent out to cover the matches by the Herald. One of the Ohio boys, seeing Adams nearby, handed Delmar his golf bag. Through the morning and afternoon sessions Delmar mugged the sticks about the course, and at the end of the afternoon play the victorious Ohioan paid Adams for caddy. He doesn't know yet that he had a reporter as a caddy.

Miss Ida Leet Turner and Miss Laura Gill Hoffman will have a joint vocational guidance group meeting at 4 o'clock Thursday, May 5, in the faculty club room. Miss Turner's group will be Nellie Mae Bowen, Mary Louise Bryson, Margaret Chaffield, Justine Cook, Helen Hannemiller, Willa Belle Hoover, Lucile Preston, Virginia Schotta, Ethel Smoot, Emma Wright, Helen Wunsch, and Gay Loughridge.

Miss Hoffman's group will be Elizabeth Ellis, Audrey Pannin, Marjorie Faulkner, Virginia Heinz, Eleanor Huson, Margaret Jeerson, Kathleen Mills, Nell Montgomery, Margaret Norman, Miriam Rosen, Helen Sullivan, Jean Kabe Balenger.

Mrs. Charles J. Smith will have a vocational guidance group at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 3, in the staff room of the library. The following girls are in her group: Amy Cody, Beula Cook, Carrie Lee

ONE MONTH MORE

As springtime speeds toward the goal of summer and, like an ambitious runner finding his second wind, increases by hours the length of her daily stride, students plodding listlessly along beside her should take warning from her panting breath. They have left to them but one month more of scholastic grace before the final examination time.

Dean Boyd, of the College of Arts and Sciences, has reported through the columns of this month's Alumnus that the majority of student failures is due to lack of study. The warmth of spring days is hardly an incentive to a sedulous application to books, and a month of such application can hardly remedy the want of it during the previous three months; nevertheless, a conscientious and efficient review of this semester's courses during the month to come cannot but help even the most serious student and, resorted to immediately by the most sluggish ones, will in large measure eliminate the necessity of last-minute and absurd "cramming."

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

What are you going to do this summer?

As students pause, nowadays, from the labors of their scholastic pursuits or from the pleasures of their extracurricular activities, the foregoing query is more and more often sounded. Usually the question is lightheartedly ignored, but if it is answered at all, it is answered indefinitely, even casually. Vacation time, job-seeking time, soon will be at hand, and now, if ever, students who intend to work this summer should decide what they would like to do during this period and make every effort to secure ahead of time the positions they desire.

Some students, to be sure, have jobs waiting for them, others have influential friends who can place them in some position if there is work to be had. Nevertheless, with the shadow of the present economic depression hanging forebodingly over colleges throughout the country, there will be fewer jobs awaiting even college students and, undoubtedly, fewer influential friends extending a sympathetic hand. This summer it will be the most ingenious, the most active, and the most wide awake students who ultimately will obtain summer employment.

Men and women at the university who must have some financial return for their time during the vacation period will do well to speak early and for themselves rather than chance their success with fate or friends.

Unquestionably there will be openings in the fields of employment this summer. Already representatives of various firms have visited the campus seeking employees of college training. To be sure, most of these desired solicitors and salespersons, and without disparagement to either the representatives or the firms, not all Kentucky students have interest in such work. On the other hand, the very fact that college students are sought out by business at all is a fair indication that their abilities are worth bidding for.

However, as more conservative employments will not seek the student, the student must seek them. Most business houses recognize the filing of an application as the established requisite of consideration before accepting the services of anyone. Through an estimate of the application the employer is able to discern whether the qualifications of the applicant meet the necessities of his particular business. Although it is customary for the job seeker to disregard the listing of an application and the listing of his qualifications until his prospective employer asks that he do so, the Kernel suspects that contrary procedure would be to the favor of the college student. Surely a carefully typed, frank statement of qualifications, accompanied by suitable recommendations, placed in the hands of any business executive at an early date cannot but gain more thorough and favorable consideration than an application filed in the hazy time of summer job hunting that will begin with the close of school in June.

If you want work this summer let your prospective employers know about it.

Jest Among Us

With members of student councils from 12 colleges here last week, students should have had no trouble walking the "straight and narrow."

"Students asked to join in drive"—headline. Taking 'em for a ride, eh?

Now that the Stroller comedy is over, co-eds will either start getting home at the regular time, or else—

Headline: "Gess will speak at convocation." You 'gess,' we're tired.

Some eastern college has prepared a book on how to choose your life's work. Make your own wisecrack.

Headline: "Annual editor will be elected." Make your own wisecrack.

News item: "This year's freshman class will formally doff the caps permanently on May day." The Jester realizes his memory is not very long, but he wants to know what caps they're speaking of.

The Jester rises again to suggest that the only difference between a cow chewing her cud and a co-ed chewing gum is that the cow gives milk.

The city of Lexington is selecting the most popular flower. The Jester would call it a who's hue contest.

Hats off to the mugg who wanted to know if anyone remembered when neck was a noun.

DOTES AND ANTI-DOTES

By CRAIG VAN DRUTEN

O. D. K. and the Men's Student council announce the marriage of Prof. R. D. McIntyre—at least the Missus was among those present at the organizations' dinner dance Friday night. However, Deltaw Jacket Vest who chaperoned her listed among the chaperones on the program of the organization's dinner dance Friday night has neither been able to learn her identity nor to write a confession from the erstwhile bachelor.

There is one on every campus. Students working in a science lab, were startled the other day as Alfagamm True Brown entered the room, turned off supposedly lighted gas jet, and cracked, "If I hadn't turned that off, all of you might have been sophisticated."

By the way, ever hear of Colonel Dick Redd. The colonel, recalled by every Kentucky student for his military air, his gallant thoroughbred, and his eccentricities on the R. O. T. C. parade grounds, generally is thought to be a Civil War veteran. He is not a colonel and never took an active part in the war. During the fracas, the colonel was confined to bed in a Tennessee hospital because of a peace-time ailment.

May Day floats
Manned by goats

Some persons are just naturally lucky. Triangle Ben LeRoy was observed peering into a gas tank the other night. He was using a common, lighted flicker-stick. He blew into his house later looking as fit as ever. Match that.

Alfagamm are celebrating. Lady Wehle dashed off with the May Queen honors. Now, the Limestone ladies announce an open house May Day.

Speaking of May Day. May we go to the Derby after all? University rules deem it improper to miss a class the day after a holiday. May Day is a holiday. Next day is Derby day. Well, well, well....

ROAMIN' THE RIALTO

Impatient Maiden

The current attraction at the Kentucky theater is "The Impatient Maiden," a sprightly comedy-drama of life and love.

Lew Ayers, one of the screen's most popular stars, heads the cast of this remarkably frank picture in the role of a young doctor, and Mae Clarke, when she meets him, decides that she really does not know about men, after all. The events which bring about her gradual fall from her pinnacle of cynicism make the picture entirely entertaining.

Members of the supporting cast, in addition to Mae Clarke, include Una Merkel, John Holliday, Andy Devine and Helen Eddy. The story was written by Donald Clarke and adapted by Richard Schayer.

Sky Devils

"Sky Devils" will continue through Tuesday at the Strand theater. Wednesday, the Strand will present "The Heart of New York," with Joe Smith, Charles Dale and George Sidney. This highly amusing picture was reviewed in a previous number of The Kernel so we will pass on by saying again that it will be well worth your time to see the picture.

Young Bride

"The Wet Parade" continues at the Ben All theater and will be shown for the last time on Wednesday. "Young Bride," starring Helen Twelvetrees, Eric Linden, and Arline Judge, will be the attraction for the remaining part of the week. The highly entertaining story concerns a beautiful and cultured girl who hangs for the romance denied her in her prosaic situation of librarian's assistant. Meeting the handsome shiek of a cheap dance hall, she is blinded by the glamour of his vivid talk of far away places and big business deals. Mistaking the shell for reality, she surrenders to her longings for romance, only to meet disillusionment and face a desperate struggle for happiness.

Do You Know That

Helen Twelvetrees prepared for her career as an actress by studying at the American Academy of Arts? Polly Walters was a former member of Ziegfeld's Follies? Eric Linden was formerly connect-

The amateur performances are still being put on at the Ben All theater and still produce the laughs! These performances provide some excellent fun and we recommend them as an evening well spent. They are put on every Friday and Saturday night.

'K' BOOK COPY DUE JUNE

All copy for the "K" book, annual publication of the university, must be in by June 1. A complete revision of the book will be made this year. Plans have been made to cut original edition in half, and new features are to be added. No definite design has been decided upon, although several combinations have been considered. The Kernel probably will print the edition. The newly elected officers are Angelo Tomasulo, assistant editor and Emily Reeves, associate editor. The entire publication is under the supervision of John Carter, business manager. Ralph E. Johnson, is editor.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

MOTHER'S DAY
I think when God planned mothers first,
The blessed song birds knew,
And each proclaimed in joyous lay,
"There's something happy on the way,
And God sends love to you."

So sweet the gift of heavenly thought,
The blossoms, gemmed with dew,
Sent petalled perfume forth to say,
"There's something lovely on the way,
To bear God's love to you."

And ages have not changed that gift,
A treasure, rich and true;
Amid the birds and flowers of May,
In gratitude we keep this day,
O, mother dear, for you!

CALENDAR
May Day Week ushers in a series of convocations, banquets, teas, and dances, which make the time from then until commencement the busiest of the year, and which involve almost every student of the campus in some way.

This week's activities will be opened tonight with the Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi dinner at the Phoenix hotel. The executive committee of Pan Politikon will meet at 9 o'clock tonight at Maxwell place. Friday, in addition to the May Day convocation and parade and convocation in the afternoon, the combined university glee clubs will go to Paris to give a concert that night, and Suky will be in charge of the annual gingham dance.

On Saturday night, the Strollers will entertain with an informal dance in the Alumni gymnasium. Advance dates are the Guignol play, "Rebound," beginning on May 9; a tea given by the Phi Beta pledges, honoring the actives, May 13; Phi Beta initiation and banquet, May 14; and the dramatic production class play, "The Yellow Jacket," May 23.

Mortar Board will initiate its new pledges on Sunday, May 22, at the Phoenix hotel.

Engagement Announced
Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Beck, 2134 Bonnycastle road, Louisville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eugenie Carson Beck, to Mr. Thomas L. Riley, Henderson, and Cincinnati, Ohio.

The marriage will be solemnized May 8, at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Beck was a student at the university for two years, and has visited friends on the campus several times this semester. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, was dramatic editor of the Kernel, a Kentuckian beauty, a Stroller, and a member of several Guignol casts.

Mr. Riley was graduated from the university last June, president of Pi Kappa Alpha, and director of Strollers. He is now an announcer for station WSBG, Cincinnati, where the couple will make their home. Mr. Riley was literary critic on the Kernel staff for several years.

O. D. K. Dinner-Dance
Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary campus fraternity leaders fraternity, entertained Friday evening at the Lafayette hotel with a dinner-dance honoring the delegates to the annual convention of the Southern Federation of College Students and the members of the Student Council of the university.

The many tables were decorated with spring flowers and lighted candles. The dinner was followed by a delightful dance with music furnished by the Kentucky Ramblers orchestra.

Antarctic Explorer

ADMIRAL RICHARD E. BYRD

Winfield, Kans.—The election of Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd, Boston, Mass., as honorary national president of the National Social Science Honor society, Pi Gamma Mu, Inc., has been announced by Dr. Leroy Allen, dean of Southwestern College and executive secretary of that organization.

Admiral Byrd's election was authorized by the third national convention of Pi Gamma Mu which met at New Orleans, December 28-31, and has been consummated by formal vote of the National Board of Trustees and acceptance of the office by Admiral Byrd.

Pi Gamma Mu was established by Dr. Leroy Allen at Southwestern College in 1924. It has since become a great national organization with chapters in 124 colleges and universities all over the United States, and one at the University of Hawaii. There are chapters in such universities as the University of Pennsylvania, Syracuse University, George Washington University, and New York University.

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is to inculcate the ideas of scholarship, the scientific spirit and social service in the social sciences. It is a general college honor society like Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi in their respective fields. Pi Gamma Mu covers the fields of sociology, economics, political science, history, philosophy, psychology, education, ethics and religion. It publishes a magazine called Social Science for the purpose of popularizing the social sciences.

Its national president is Dr. Charles A. Eliwood, the distinguished sociologist, Duke University. The other national officers are Dr. George Harris Weaver, Georgia State College; Dr. Gordon S. Watkins, University of California at Los Angeles; and Dr. S. Howard Ratterson, University of Pennsylvania.

Admiral Byrd was chosen honorary president because of his well-known interest in social science and his application to social problems. He became a member of Pi Gamma Mu in 1927 and in 1929 was appointed a member of the National Advisory Council.

In 1928 Admiral Byrd carried with him on his expedition to the Antarctic the blue and white checkered flag of the society, each square representing a chapter and the whole symbolizing the checkered career of mankind and the intricacy of social problems.

Examinations have been definitely announced by the board of trustees at the University of Pennsylvania. The final examination period, a two-weeks interval during the last part of May and early June, will give way to a period of instruction and vacation. At the end of the first week of this time a one-hour test, similar to ordinary monthly quizzes, will be given, while there will be no classes at all during the second week.

Is the student body at the University of North Carolina wet or dry? That is the question which will be answered in a poll to be taken simultaneously with student body elections.

A waiter's training school, the first of its kind in the country, will make its appearance next quarter at Ohio State University. According to the Lantern, newspaper publication, there will now be no excuse for waiters who spill soup in customers, lays or jab patrons in the eye with a stray fork.

The female body at Louisiana State is agog over the mysterious appearance, or rather disappearance, of what has been termed the Madcap Gigolo. He writes love notes to the campus beauties and otherwise makes himself known around the campus. He has even been accused of throwing wild parties in a sorority house.

"A lack of uniformity in the methods of admitting students to American colleges is one of the weaknesses of the present educational system," said Dr. Carl A. Jensen, specialist in the Office of Education at Washington, in a report this week to the Interstate Teachers' Conference.

Dr. Jensen points out that in a survey of 523 American educational institutions more than thirty-six widely varying standards of admission were found in use, many of them embodying complex and unscientific features. "The majority of institutions employ both college entrance board examinations and individual requirement examinations for admitting students to college."

The result of such "extensive diversity, increasing complexity, and general lack of scientific evidence" for college entrance requirements has led to the inauguration of state-wide studies of the question in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Minnesota, and given strength to the proposal that a national unified system be adopted.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By Ralph E. Johnson

About a year ago a nationally known magazine carried a highly played up article about Tilden. The writer described the change of attitude the champion had undergone when he turned from an amateur to a professional. As an amateur he was highly strung, irritable, and very temperamental, but as a professional he had lost none of his skill but all of his faults of temperament.

Friday, on his second appearance at the university, Tilden showed up like the amateur he used to be. On four occasions he stopped the play; once to make a speech to the discontented persons in the stands who did not appreciate "good tennis", another time to invite a boy to come down off of the fence before he "fell off", still another time, to severely admonish one of the line judges for not calling a fault (this time he appeared to be in a rage. He beat with his racket on the ground and made many unnecessary motions), and the last time to ask that certain little boys be removed from nearby trees as their Bronx cheer annoyed him no end. His playing was not up to par. No doubt, due to the fact that he is old and he has a strenuous engagement to fill in Cincinnati in the next two days. But Najuch and Burk were also old and they were scheduled to play with Tilden in Cincy. However, they choose to be less irritable, and, as a consequence, won the hearty approval of many in the crowd.

Pare was also on edge and his haughty, disdainful air did nothing to aid his popularity. On several occasions he sharply rebuked the official for slight slips. He lost his match, and lost some respect.

Where Tilden or Pare get that stuff I fail to see. They are entitled to sporting respect, but, in return, so are officials and spectators. They must remember that they have lost their standing as amateurs and are now in a class with the circus performer, actor or other professional figures.

This year's state track meet was uninteresting in that the high schools did not produce any material that showed up better than the university track men. Last year there were several records hung up that were better than anything Shively could show on his team. The pole vault went up to 11 feet which is a few inches better than Porter did against Berea a week ago. Other events were slower or shorter.

There was a bright spot on the afternoon's card in the Kercheval Noble dual. In that event spectators were treated to a sight that never before has been, and may never be repeated. Two of the finest in their line performed. This said that the boys had been arguing as to their respective abilities, and the punting versus javelin dual resulted. However, it is our opinion that Bernie Shively was clever enough to bullyhoo the thing along for its publicity.

Nobe came within one foot and seven inches of his record heave. When he threw 197 feet, and Kercheval went one up on his when he booted his pigskin 197 feet nine inches. Before the meet it was decided that an average of four attempts would be made and the winner declared on the basis of the results. Nobe came out on top, but not by much.

Last week news came to the sports world that Robert Pribble's foxhound pack, had been found. Sam Woodridge found Robert exactly seven days after the memorable hunt. Farmers nearby declare that Robert had made the rounds of each farm for food, which sort of paints Robert as a tramp.

"Daddy" Boles insists that the fox had Robert freed and after seven days the fox had to leave to hunt for food, and Robert had the chance to come down.

During the time Robert was lost the athletic staff had so much fun at Pribble's expense he turned to Mrs. McKinney for solace. He lamented to her, "I don't see how any one can make fun of another fellow's misfortune."

"Daddy" Boles heard about it, and all he could say was, "And all the time I thought it was his good fortune."

Here's a little bad news for the tennis players! It has been necessary for the university officials to make a charge for the use of the Rose street tennis courts this summer. Season tickets will be sold for fifty cents, or now and then players can use the courts at ten cents per hour.

And now that the Literary Digest has completed the national prohibition polls again and everyone is sure beer will return, it might be appropriate to tell of a little game some Swedish students in the University of Berlin invented.

The game is simple and intriguing and is played thusly. Three or more students sit in a beer garden drinking beer and singing steln songs when one of the students gets up and leaves the room. Now the game is for the remaining students to guess why the first student went out of the room.

Personally, the thing we shall long remember about the Stroller's play was the trumpet solo played by Gene Royce during the intermission. Among the outstanding performances of last year's revue was "Star Dust" as played by the same trumpeteer.

Incidentally, we can quite agree with Allen Norreh on the outstanding performance (female). We are of the opinion that Alice Jane Howes turned on best for the weaker sex. However, we do not deny the stage presents of Louise Johnson, or whatever the critic called that something she had.

Shortly after Ben Eastman broke his two world records we burst forth in praise of his feat. Today he is the sensation of the national sports world. Magazines, newspapers, and other periodicals carry long stories and many pictures of the flying Californian.

STATE COLLEGES
SEND DELEGATES
TO U. K. MEETINGDr. Fred J. Kelly, Chief of
U. S. Bureau of Education,
To Be SpeakerCONFERENCE TO OPEN
AT 10 A. M. SATURDAY

Approximately 100 educators, representing all colleges in the state, are expected to be present to hear Dr. Fred J. Kelly, chief of the division of colleges and professional schools of the United States office of education, who will be one of the principal speakers at the Kentucky conference on educational research in the field of higher education at the university Saturday.

Some of the most important problems of college education will be discussed at the conference. The chief consideration will be research work which has for its purpose the improvement of college education.

The conference, which will be held at McVey hall, will open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and will include both morning and afternoon sessions. Dr. Frank L. McVey will preside and several of the university faculty will make addresses.

Prof. E. J. Asher, department of psychology, will speak on "Use of Tests at the University of Kentucky for Sectioning Classes and Advising Students." Dr. C. C. Ross, College of Education, will deliver an address on "Influence on the Student's Achievement of a Knowledge of His Progress." Miss Alice Keys will speak on "Relation of Student Load to Scholarship Intelligence and Outside Activities." The remainder of the program is as follows:

Dr. Kelly will be the first speaker on the program, and his subject will be "The Status of Research in Higher Education." Other speakers at the morning session and their subjects will be: Dr. Herbert A. Toops, Ohio State University, "Co-operative Intelligence Testing, Guidance and Research Program of the Ohio Colleges and Secondary Schools;" Dean W. B. Hughes, Asbury College, "Relation Between Occupations of Parents and Student Scholarship." Discussions will follow the latter two addresses. There will be an adjournment for lunch at noon and the afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock.

Dr. J. B. Miner, Dr. Jesse E. Adams and Dean Paul P. Boyd, of the University of Kentucky, are in charge of arrangements for the conference.

local entry, scored seven and a half points on a fourth in the 440 relay. Golden fifth in the low hurdles and fourth in the broad jump.

The Berea Academy boys, who ran first and second in the mile and half-mile last year, were back again this year, but failed to repeat their triumph; being able to take a third in the half mile and a fourth in the mile.

A special entertainment was offered the fans during the afternoon, in the form of a contest between the distance booting toe of Ralph Kercheval, Wildcat track and football luminary and Harry Noble, holder of the state interscholastic javelin record to determine which performer could get the better distance in his chosen event. They threw three times against the wind. Noble had the better average, but Kerch kicked the oval 187 feet, 9 inches to top Noble's best toss by nine inches.

taken over most of our masculine privileges. But pipe smoking still belongs to us.

In every walk of life you'll find that the men at the top are pipe smokers. And most college men agree that the pipe offers the rarest pleasures a man could ask of his smoking.

When you smoke a pipe, be sure you choose the tobacco that will give you the greatest enjoyment. In 42 out of 54 colleges Edgeworth is the favorite. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold. Or for a special sample packet, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va. Sample is free.
